November 2024

A Grateful Life

November has come and gone, but the memories are still here. I know that it's somewhat corny to try and find something to be grateful for every day, but what this practice actually does is produce a positive perspective in us. There are already so many reasons to be negative and doubtful throughout the year, but it takes work to be grateful. At least at first. Once an attitude of gratitude is developed, it's easier to be thankful.

An attitude of gratitude is a magnet for the miraculous. In Jelgava, there was a young girl healed of back pain after having it for many years of her life. She received her healing following one of the services. This miracle has led to a deeper desire in her relationship with God. What a time to be alive!

While Thanksgiving is typically an American holiday, we wanted to show our friends and contacts what the holiday is typically like for us. We gathered together, ate some amazing food, and genuinely displayed the love of God to each other. There were Indians, Latvians, Russians, Africans, Americans, Asians. Almost every major ethnic group was represented in the room. We have truly become one giant family. I am thankful that we have connected with these people.

Prayer Requests:

There is power in the unity of people in prayer.
Please help in praying for these needs:

- Unity of the Nation
- Revelation of truth In the people of Latvia
- Fundraising- I have returned to the USA to raise funds and awareness of what is happening in the Baltic Nations. Please pray that funds are released and that I am able to quickly return to my field of calling

In November we held a celebration service in Riga. There were several people in attendance. Everyone present came from different backgrounds, most of their stories are very different from each other. The beauty of this Christian walk of following Christ and being the body is that we don't have to come from the same beginnings. Our ending is more important than our beginnings. Our endgame is that every single person develops their own relationship with God and leads a rich and fulfilling life that is ordained by God. It's been an amazing journey walking with these people, watching us all grow in our walks with God.
