IN

Guatemala

Church

One of the biggest things we appreciate about the churches here in Guatemala is how truly welcoming they are. You can see it in every action they make that they're excited that you are there.

We recently moved to a new town not far from Guatemala City and have been using the church there as a homebase. Immediately, they filled us in on their schedule and how we could be of assistance. Working with them has been such a pleasure and we are excited to see what is to come in Guatemala and beyond.

Bible School

The bible school headquarters is in Guatemala City however to make it available for long distance students there are several smaller campuses spread out over central Guatemala that share its curriculum through G.A.T.S.

Classes are at 6PM so the Pastor, his wife and the two of us arrived at 5:15 to prepare the coffee and prepare the classrooms. My particular favorite classroom has a tree growing through the center rather than cut it down.

Home International

The main mission of Home International is to “provide love, care, education, protection, and spiritual formation to orphaned, abused, abandoned, and rescued children in order to form Godly men and women.”

When you step foot on the campus of Home International you instantly feel impacted by the prayers and loving labor of hundreds of local ministry teams, mission groups, and churches located in the United States and Canada. Home International is operated by an amazing team that will inspire you from their passion and zeal for their job safeguarding these children.

There is always work to be done, starting next month there are groups coming to assist in repainting the external campus walls.

Spanish

NOLAN, MACKINZIE, AND FRIEND AT COFFEE SHOP TEACHING EACH OTHER OUR LANGUAGE.

Finding a Spanish tutor has quickly aided us in learning the language in a more confident way. However, we love every opportunity to go into the community and introduce ourselves. Giving us a valuable opportunity to learn the language but more importantly talk about Jesus.

One such opportunity came upon entering a coffee shop and we soon became friends with the three employees. Each of them were interested in knowing more English and we were interested in knowing more Spanish, so we agreed to meet weekly.

It started with conversations on where we were from and what we liked but quickly switched to why we were here. They were very interested to hear that we were here to minister about Jesus and wanted to know more. So far, we have one coming with us to church, but we are believing all three will be won to the Lord.

Fellowship

During a time where everyone has a busy schedule and many responsibilities, it can be difficult to set time apart to fellowship and recharge.

That's why we are so thankful to be under the leadership of the Campbells who we so easily enjoy those moments of reprieve with.
